

You want to make better, data-driven decisions, but your data is stored in multiple systems...

TableauHelp has a solution.

Mitto

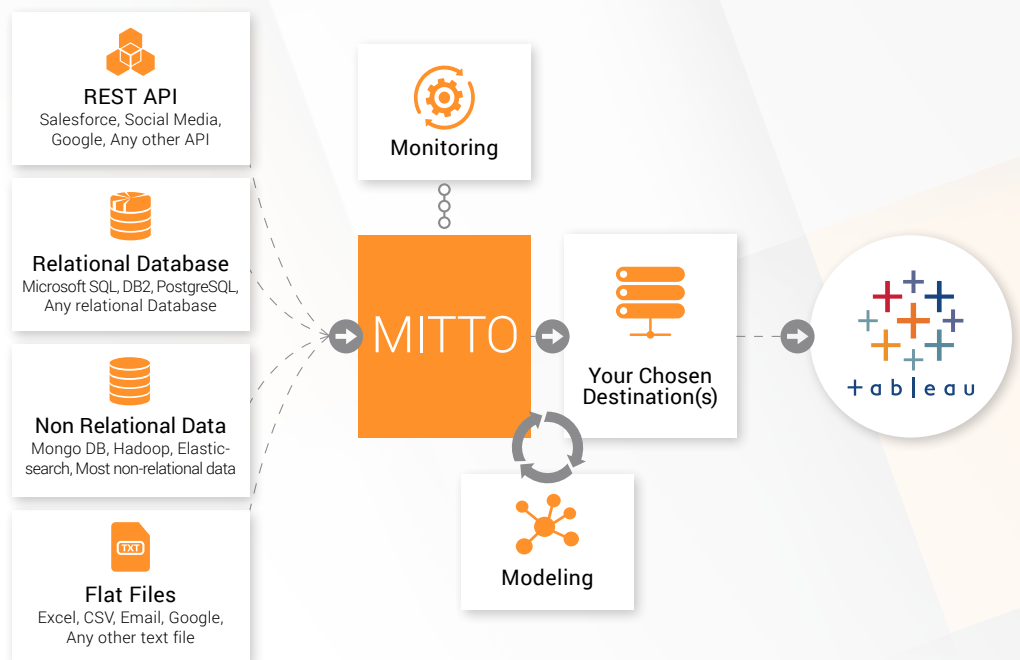

TableauHelp + Mitto

TableauHelp provides data solution services to enhance business intelligence. This includes data extraction, movement, storage, modeling, analytics, visualization, and certified Tableau software training. We use our own product, Mitto, to combine your data sources into a single location and model it for the best possible results in analytics and visualization.

What is Mitto? Mitto is our fast, lightweight, completely customizable data pipeline solution. It automates and monitors the flow of data from all your source systems into a single "Tableau ready" destination.

How does it work?

- ◇ You pick the data sources you want to analyze in Tableau. We use connectors to set up the data flow and create custom connectors when necessary.
- ◇ You pick your destination database(s). Mitto comes with PostgreSQL already installed, or you can use your existing database solution. If you need help we will advise you or even set up your environment for you.
- ◇ Mitto has built-in monitoring that alerts you via email or Slack of any disruptions in the data flow.
